AIAO Virtual L+L - Benjamin Obdyke
Jan 17 | 12-1pm | Virtual Event
1 AIA LU/HSW Available

Healthy Home: All control layers working together

Buildings have become a complex network of control systems which must work together to prevent failure, but often times these systems are incorporated incorrectly and lead to significant damage and unhealthy living conditions. This course will explore the four control layers in the building envelope and how they must work together to create a healthy home.
