AIA Oregon Digital Design Series

Yesterday, April 22, AIA Oregon began the Digital Design Series, a 1 hour virtual session with multiple presenters on Zoom that will occur at 5:00pm on Wednesdays. The topics of this series are design-focused, are based on the concept of Learning from Sharing lead by people in our community and should provide opportunities for discussion.

Upcoming Digital Design Series Events

Digital Design Collaboration – Architecture Schools

Wed, April 29, 2020, 5:00-6:00pm

How can we best foster productive design collaborations and support remote community? From University of Oregon, Nancy Cheng and Jerolim Mladinov will explain lessons learned from online teaching and research partnerships.

Nancy has led Virtual Studios from Hong Kong and Oregon; she co-teaches a hybrid UO-OSU wood structures course and is coordinating first year design online. Jerolim will compare his mostly asynchronous teaching for the Boston Architectural Center with mostly synchronous online teaching for University of Oregon.

InProcess Lecture Series

Wed, May 13, 2020, 5:00-6:00pm

InProcess is a quarterly lecture series presented by AIA Oregon exploring the creative process of local architects, designers, makers, and creators.

In this edition of InProcess, we will hear from Scott Mooney of SRG Partnership and Lyle Keck of Affiliated Engineers, Inc.

Scott will be talking about the process of design at SRG's office with a focus on Academic Building 2 – OSU Cascades' second academic building. AB2 embodies a deep commitment to sustainability and decarbonization, including a Net Zero Energy target and a structure of regionally sourced mass timber. Energy modeling and finding integrated solutions that go beyond just the building's mechanical systems played key roles in the design's development. Lyle Keck will be talking about the work of Affiliated Engineers, Inc, including his role in the collaborative process for AB2.

AIA Oregon Presents!

Wed, May 20, 2020, 5:00-6:00pm

Debating May 20 as part of the Digital Design Series, "AIA Oregon Presents!" will be a series of 3 twenty-minute presentations of Architect Member Projects where participants narrate along with PowerPoint graphics about Project Program, Site and Neighborhood Challenges, Project Solutions, Successes and Learning Experiences.

As Jim Satzinger talks about in this week's Message, these presentations will be similar in form to Design Award submittals, but instead of anonymous authorship and jury deliberation, presenting Architect(s) will personally tell their story, describe and share their work with AIA Oregon members using Schematic Design Drawings, Construction Documents and Photographs of in-process and completed work.

If you would like to participate in a future session of "AIA Oregon Presents!" please contact jasatzinger@gmail.com or (505) 946-7103.
