AIA Leadership and Elections

Krista Phillips, AIA, was selected by the AIA Oregon Board to fill the open At-Large-Director position.

For 13 years, Krista Phillips has served in a variety of leadership volunteer positions as a member of AIA Alaska. In 2005, she was nominated to serve as the state of Alaska's State IDP Coordinator, a position held until 2011. Krista continues to serve emerging professionals as an Architect Licensing Advisor (now coordinated by NCARB) to strengthen AXP and ARE success rates. For over 10 years, she has served the AIA as a Practitioner volunteer team member and team chair for accreditation visits for the National Architectural Accrediting Board—serving on 10 visits across the US and Madrid, Spain. Krista is passionate about growing our profession and committed to volunteering her time toward

2019 Bend Design Charrettes

AIA Bend is leading its members and other industry professionals in designing new Transportation links and adjacent Community Open-spaces from the old Bend Central District to Downtown Bend and beyond as the first critical planning piece in launching new Bend Urban Redevelopment District investments.

October 8th will be the next (3rd) Design Charrette, and will focus on completing the Hawthorne Avenue Pedestrian and Bicycle path under the Railway and Bend Parkway, envisioning safe on-grade, landscape-enhanced multimodal intersections, and rethinking the design of the existing Greenwood Ave. underpass. Read More»

The efforts and results from the AIA Bend Design Charrettes will be presented at the 2019 Bend Design Conference where seminar attendees will be able to prioritize the proposals, critique our solutions, and provide detail ideas and refinements from new prospectives.
